Greetings from The President of Florida A&M University

Good afternoon. I am very pleased to welcome each of you to this most important Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference contest between two outstanding competitors. On behalf of the entire FAMU community, I extend greetings to all.

As always, I am grateful to see many loyal supporters. It is your allegiance to FAMU, your spirit and your cooperation that speak loudest for the character and quality of our great institution.

Congratulations to the inductees into the Florida A&M University Sports Hall of Fame and thanks to the FAMU physicians who provided for us a precedent-setting medical seminar at FAMU, their alma mater. This outstanding seminar was a cooperative effort of the FAMU Alumni Association and FAMU's Division of Continuing Education.

I extend a special greeting to the representatives and supporters of our worthy opponent from Bethune-Cookman College. The rivalry between the Rattlers and the Wildcats is of the keenest nature and dates back to 1947. I am very certain that the football contest here today will be in keeping with the fine tradition of character and sportsmanship of our respective institutions.

Thank you.

Enjoy the game: it's only war

Nearly four years of hard work has gone into Rudy Hubbard's getting the Rattlers to this point in the 1977 season when they can boast a 9-0 record. But "I would sacrifice all nine wins to beat Bethune-Cookman," the coach says unhesitatingly.

Hubbard bitterly remembers the 34-0 humiliation he and his squad suffered at the hands of Bethune-Cookman last season. "That was the worst defeat I have ever been associated with, either as a player or coach," he said, "and it has been a long year since then. But the one thing about being a football coach is that you always have the chance for the return match."

Today, then, is that return match, if you will, and just how much revenge Hubbard will be able to get will depend a lot on how much Bethune-Cookman will surrender.

This series which once was a piece of cake for the Rattlers, has suddenly become a civil war of sorts, and Hubbard gets so emotional when talking about it that one gets the feeling that if he could, he would don a uniform and get out on the field and hit somebody... and anybody wearing a maroon and gold.

While Florida A&M is 9-0, Bethune-Cookman is 8-2, and that brings back memories of 1975 at this same site when it was B-CC with the perfect 8-0 record and Florida A&M twice beaten at 7-2. The Rattlers won that one 17-7 in a stunning upset. I'm aware of that, "Hubbard said. "In this game records don't mean anything. It will be won on emotion."

As if just winning or losing were not enough, the game also is for the championship of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Both teams bring in perfect 4-0 SIAC records and the winner will walk away with the crown. Hubbard would like this one for that reason, too, because the only other sampling he has had of the SIAC cake was a co-championship with B-CC in 1975.

Besides at least one emotional coach on the sidelines, there will be two talented teams on the field. Bethune-Cookman, under second-year coach Andy Hinson, is as formidable as ever. The Wildcats' only two losses were to Texas Southern in the season opener, and an upset homecoming loss to Delaware State, which was on a seven-game winning streak. The wildcats claim the likes of Jackson State and North Carolina A&T among their victims.

Quarterback Reggie Beverly, the Little Magician, has been a thorn in the Rattlers' side for three years, and No. 16 will be out there again today. Running back Albert Anderson (32) also is one to watch as is linebacer Earl Inman (62) whom the Jackson State coach called a one-man demolition squad.

Meanwhile, the Rattlers will rely on their corps of infantrymen as their primary strike force. With a ground game that has been chewing up nearly 300 yards per game, Hubbard will call on his corps of Mounties (offensive line) to clear the way for Ike Williams (45) Clarence Hawkins (30), et. al.

Defensively, the Rattlers have allowed only 65.6 yards rushing per game and the Rattler defense will have a lot of pride at stake in trying to contain the Wildcats.

To add a touch of mystery to the goings on, Hubbard closed his practice gates this week in preparation for this one and said he was adding a few new things for the Wildcats. What will the surprise be? Obviously, Bethune-Cookman thinks the best surprise is no surprise, but Hubbard hopes that his surprise will help him get his revenge.

Any way one views it, today's game is expected to be a barn burner, and the expected record crowd probably will be limp by the time it's all over.

A famous writer once said, "War is Hell." Could he have been forecasting the 1977 Florida A&M-Bethune-Cookman football game?

OFFICER OF THE DECK. A YEAR OUT OF COLLEGE AND IN CHARGE OF THE ENTIRE SHIP.

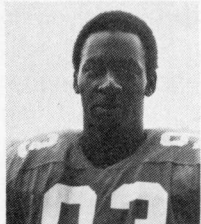

The Midshipmen of the Naval ROTC at FAMU have returned from their Summer Cruises to Hong Kong, Hawaii, Rio De Janiero and the Mediterranean. They've seen a lot and they have enjoyed an exciting and challenging summer. But Most important, they each were given responsibilities which most people never see in a lifetime. Picture yourself on the Bridge of a Destroyer, or at the controls of an F-14 Tomcat or leading a platoon of Marines. Our NROTC graduates are out there now as leaders in the Navy and Marine corps.

If you are looking for a challenge and a position with some real responsibility after you graduate from FAMU then the Naval ROTC may be just the thing for you. The NROTC has a program designed for freshmen and sophomores through which you can earn a commission as an officer in the Navy or Marine Corps. And if you are a Technology, Math, Physics or Chemistry major you may qualify for a full-time Scholarship.

We invite you to stop by the Unit at 690 Gamble Street to discuss the many opportunities available to men and women at FAMU in the Naval Service. Or call us at 599-3980 or 599-3989. When you see our Midshipmen on campus ask them what their future holds. That future could be yours.

RUDY HUBBARD

Head Football Coach

Since coming to Florida A&M at the beginning of the 1974 season, Rudy Hubbard has compiled a record of 21-10-2. That calculates to be a 64 percent winning rate.

Actually, since some regard a tie as neither a win nor a loss, excluding the two ties, then, Hubbard's winning percentage figure jumps to 68 . . . and with his overall football program developing into what he desires, that figure in all probability will climb even higher.

During his three-year tenure, Hubbard has redirected the FAMU football fortunes and under his leadership the Rattlers have regained that respectability that had been a tradition for so long.

In that initial season, 1974, Hubbard coached the Rattlers to a 6-5 mark, their first winning record since a similar 6-5 season in 1971. In 1975 his Rattlers were 9-2, the first time a Rattler team has won as many as nine games in a single season since 1964. Considering that the team lost only three games in 1976 (6-3-2), that is the second best record the Rattlers have had since 1969, bettered only by Hubbard's 1975 slate.

With a background as a former player and coach under Woody Hayes at Ohio State, Hubbard brought in a winning attitude. He is a believer in sound, fundamental football and knows how to recruit the horses to make his program go.

While at Ohio State, Hubbard personally recruited Archie Griffin, who later became the only person ever to win the Heisman Trophy twice, Cornelius Greene and John Hicks. Greene has been the MVP in the Rose Bowl while Hicks won the Outland and Lombardi trophies before entering the National Football League.

An all-conference and all-county performer in high school basketball and football for three years, Hubbard was player-of-the-year as a freshman at Ohio State.

A knee injury sidelined the running back for most of his sophomore year, but he fought back and was in uniform before season's end. He was a starter all his junior year and really blossomed during his senior year, averaging 5.3 yards per carry, scoring three touchdowns, catching 13 passes for 98 yards and averaging 17.1 yards per attempt on kickoff returns.

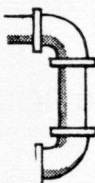

Hubbard was drafted by Montreal of the Canadian Football League in 1968 but forewent a professional football career when he was offered a job as backfield coach for Ohio State. Hubbard said he wanted someday to become a head coach and felt his chances were far greater as an assistant to Woody Hayes.

He joined the Buckeye staff in 1968 and that year Ohio State won the national championship. He has coached Jim Otis, Leo Hayden and John Brockington, all now prominent figures in the NFL.

Hubbard hails from Hubbard, Ohio, where he attended Hubbard High School (the names are a coincidence). He was recruited by over 60 colleges before finally deciding on Ohio State. Likewise, he has been recruited by the Atlanta Falcons and the University of Hawaii since he's been at Florida A&M, but he graciously declined the offers to remain at the helm of the Rattlers.

Hubbard is married to the former Belinda Schwartz and is the father of one son, Sean, and one daughter, Jolanda.

RATTLER ASSISTANT COACHES

AMOS HILL
Nose Guards

Hill is a native of Jacksonville and a graduate of Florida A&M University. From 1970 through 1975 he was an assistant at Gainesville High, where the Purple Hurricanes experienced unparalleled success. They were bowl champs, city champs, or Big Eight Conference champs in each of those years, and were undefeated both in 1972 and 1973. Hill joined the Rattler staff as a graduate assistant in 1976 and coached the defensive ends.

BOBBY LANG
Defensive Tackles & Ends

Lang enters his 12th season as a member of the Rattler staff, and he also doubles as the FAMU track coach. In 1977 his squad won its fifth SIAC championship and he was named SIAC track coach of the year for the third time. Lang was an All-SIAC performer in football during his playing days at FAMU, where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees. In 1968, Lang's 440 relay team became the first in history to retire the Patterson Memorial Cup at the Penn Relays by winning it three consecutive years.

ALLEN BOGAN
Offensive Line

Bogan is a graduate of Ohio University where he starred as a running back and wide receiver. He holds his master's from Youngstown State and has had coaching experience on the high school level as well as serving as an assistant at Indiana State University before coming to Florida A&M. He was chosen as the first member of Rudy Hubbard's staff and is entering his fourth year as a member of the Rattler coaching staff.

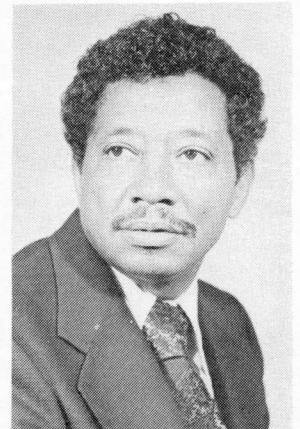

FRED GOLDSMITH
Linebackers

Goldsmith brings impressive credentials. He is a graduate of the University of Florida and has worked as an assistant under Doug Dickey. Before coming to Florida A&M he was a high school coach and had compiled a record of 35-21-4. He turned losing programs around at Jasper, Punta Gorda Charlotte and DeLand high schools. His most impressive task was at Charlotte, which had won only five games in eight years before Goldsmith's arrival. He took them to the state semifinals before losing, for a 10-1 season.

COSTA KITTLES
Wide Receivers & Quarterbacks

Kittles enters his 25th season as a Rattler coach. He earned All-American honors while playing for the Rattlers in 1950. He holds his bachelor's from FAMU and the master's from Ohio State. He is noted for his success in developing wide receivers and quarterbacks. Kittles also serves as head baseball coach and produces perennially strong teams. He has a quiet manner but gets outstanding results, both on the field and in the classroom where he is an assistant professor.

ROBERT MUNGEN
Defensive Secondary

Mungen played end, halfback and quarterback for the Rattlers during his undergraduate days at FAMU. He enters his 17th season as a Rattler coach and the Jacksonville native also is an assistant professor with a master's from Indiana University. Prior to joining the Rattler staff Mungen was head coach at Edward Waters College in Jacksonville, Fla., and Knoxville (Tenn.) College.

1977 FAMU HALL OF FAME INDUCTEES

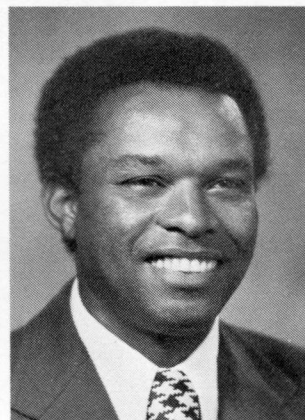

The 1977 inductees into the Florida A&M University Sports Hall of Fame are most worthy of their enshrinement. Their contributions, not only to Florida A&M athletics, but to mankind in general, have been most praiseworthy. The brief bits of information in no way purports to be a full accounting of these special persons. Instead, they are meant to introduce the inductees those "newtimers" who were not fortunate enough to witness their exploits first hand.

HENRY "HANK" BUTLER

SOLOMON LUTHER CALHOUN

ERNEST DONALD FEARS, JR.

LEONARD H. B. FOOTE, M.D.

HENRY "HANK" BUTLER

Henry "Hank" Butler came to Florida A&M in 1936 from East High School in Columbus, Ohio where he had received eight varsity letters in football, basketball and track.

Butler continued his three-sport participation at Florida A&M. He quarterbacked the Rattlers to successive Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships in 1937 and 1938. The 1938 team was Florida A&M's first national championship squad. Finishing with an 8-0 record, the team was undefeated and unscored-on except by Kentucky State, which scored seven points in the final game of the season—the Orange Blossom Classic—in Orlando. The Rattlers won the game, though, 9-7.

Butler was All-Conference quarterback in 1937, 1938, and 1939. He was an All-American quarterback in 1937 and became a repeater for that honor in 1938.

His friends remember Butler as a spectacular open field runner and in those days nicknamed him the "Climax Runner." Most of his touchdowns were 15 yards or longer. It is said that one could sense a wave of new vitality in the Rattler huddle when Butler called old Number 26-on-2. Butler also was a better-than-average punter and placekicker in a multi-talented backfield.

Also a staunch competitor in track, Butler ran the 100-and 220-yard dashes, the low hurdles, and was a member of the 880-yard relay team. He further displayed his versatility by playing both guard and forward on the varsity basketball team.

Butler received his B.A. degree from Florida A&M in 1940, and is now retired after 33 years of Federal Service. He resides in his hometown of Columbus, Ohio with his wife of 34 years, Evelyn.

The Butlers have a son and daughter and two granddaughters. The Butlers' son, Henry, Jr., lettered in football at FAMU and married a Tallahassee girl, Winifred Williams.

Solomon Luther Calhoun holds the distinction of being Florida A&M's first first-team All-American in football. He was awarded that honor in 1934.

The left tackle, fondly called "Snake John," was famous for going down on punts. He was known as a vicious tackle, pass rusher and punt blocker. He was credited with blocking three men on Dean Blue's 109½ (officially 100)-yard return against Morris Brown in 1934.

Calhoun played offensively and defensively and was one of the iron horses who played 60 minutes in each game.

A native of Alpine, Alabama, Calhoun attended Kingston Elementary School in Alpine, Drury Jr. High School of Talladega College in Talladega, Alabama, and graduated from Clark College High School in Atlanta. He then attended Clark College and played football for two years before transferring to Florida A&M.

He earned the B.S. from Florida A&M in 1936 and the M.S. from FAMU in 1955. He has done further study at Ohio State, Florida State, and the University of Florida.

His experience as a coach and teacher has spanned many years and many places, including Hastings (Fla.) Vocational Training School; Excelsior High School, St. Augustine; Bunnell (Fla.) Carver High School and Nassau County schools. He also has worked for the Florida East Coast Railroad Company, has served as principal of Excelsior Elementary School, was director of Pupil Welfare in the St. Johns County office, and is the retired owner of the Chapin Street Grocery and Washeteria in St. Augustine.

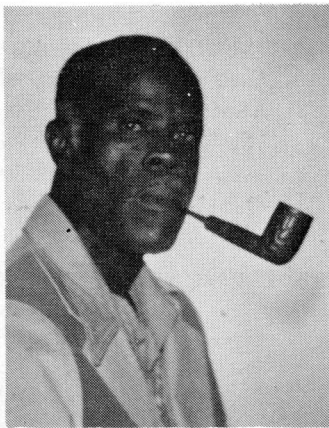

Calhoun is a member of St. Paul A.M.E. Church, where he is a Steward, Trustee, and Sunday School teacher. He also holds membership in the NAACP; Grand United Order of Oddfellows, San Sebastian Lodge #317; Elks; St. Johns County Retired Teachers Association; National Retired Teachers Association; St. Johns County Mental Health Association; Venetian Club; and the Clique Social Club.

ERNEST DONALD FEARS, JR.

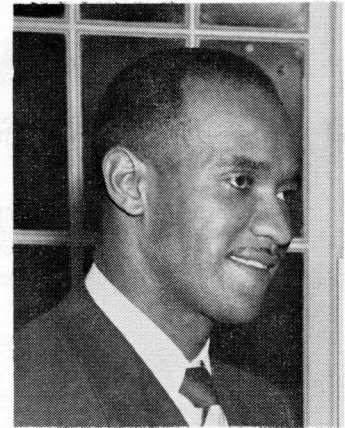

After coming to Tallahassee from his native Leesburg, Ernest Donald Fears, Jr., became a "home grown" product of Tallahassee and the Florida A&M school system. He attended elementary, high school and college at Florida A&M and earned his bachelor's degree in physical education.

He was later to earn his master's at Ohio State.

Completing his high school education at the age of 14, "Junior," as he is called by his friends, was awarded a full scholarship to play basketball for the Rattlers, and at the age of 15 was a freshman starter. He eventually captained the team in his senior year (1950-51).

Fears' first job was at Blanche Ely High School in Pompano Beach, Florida in 1952 as basketball and football coach. Thus began a career in which Fears never had a losing season in either football or basketball.

After a stint in the Army, Fears returned to Blanche Ely for an additional year before moving to Southern University in Baton Rouge, La. from 1956-60. He became Southern's head basketball coach in 1968. It was also here that Fears met and married Evelyn Frances Lawlah of Washington, D. C., in what Fears calls the greatest victory of his career.

He returned to FAMU in 1960-62 as an assistant basketball and baseball coach, and later in 1962 he moved to Norfolk State College in Virginia as head basketball coach. During his first three years at Norfolk State, Fears transformed a 7-4 team into a 19-7 threat. In his seven years at Norfolk State, he compiled a record of 152-31, with two Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association regular season championships and two CIAA tournament championships.

In 1969 Fears became athletic director at Norfolk State and he also was appointed by the Governor of Virginia as the Director of the State's Civil Service Board. His efforts in that capacity led to his receiving a national award for doing the most toward bringing about equality for all in the Selective Service System.

In 1972 Fears became Manager of Personnel and Community Relations with the Evening Star Broadcasting Company; he became vice president in 1976. Presently, he is Manager of Personnel and Community Relations for WMAL, Inc., a subsidiary of the American Broadcasting Companies, Inc.

LEONARD H. B. FOOTE, M.D.

A longtime Florida A&M team physician and caretaker of athletes, Dr. L. H. B. Foote will be the first to admit that, "even when I attempted to avoid the show of favoritism, I believe I might have been guilty of lavishing special attention on athletes..."

Dr. Foote has devoted much of his life to the medical care of Florida A&M students. From 1926-1948 he was College Physician and Director of Student Health. Concurrently, he was medical director and administrator of the Florida A&M Hospital, a position he held through 1949, after which he was medical director until 1953.

Not only was he responsible for the medical well-being of numerous Florida A&M students and athletes, but he also was the referring physician who worked so diligently with Jake Gaither when the famous Rattler coach was referred for life-saving brain surgery in the early 1940s.

For every Florida A&M athlete who experienced any kind of physical discomfort, the name "Dr. Foote," became a household word. His omnipresence on the sidelines and in the office was a symbol of assurance, for all knew that they were in good hands.

A native of Cockeysville, Maryland, Dr. Foote attended Foote's Hill Elementary School, the State Normal School at Bowie, Maryland, and Baltimore High School. He earned the B.S. and M.D. degrees at Howard University and interned at John A. Andrew Memorial Hospital, Tuskegee Institute, Ala.

He has earned medical licenses in New York, Ohio, Maryland, Georgia, and Florida, where he has held a private practice since 1926.

Chevy Chevette

43^{MPG} / 31^{MPG}

EPA HIGHWAY EPA CITY ESTIMATE

Smile: You've just read the highest EPA estimates for any car built in America. Ever.

Chevy Chevette with available 1.6-litre engine and standard manual transmission.

EPA figures are estimates. The mileage you get will vary depending on your type of driving, driving habits, car's condition and available equipment. In California, EPA figures are lower.

And keep on smiling, there's more.

Chevette has more head room than many mid-size cars.

More horsepower this year.

A hatchback that opens up over 26 cu. ft. of carrying space.

One of the tightest turning circles of any car in the world.

A diagnostic connector for quick electronic service checks.

A service manual written for do-it-yourselfers.

A unitized body that's corrosion-protected.

And nearly 6,000 Chevy dealers everywhere.

If 43 and 31 are your kind of figures, stop by a Chevy dealer soon.

He has some more numbers you'll like too: Chevette's price.

It'll drive you happy.

Tim Chavers

Dr. Foote's positions held, professional affiliations, awards and honors, and social affiliations are too numerous to mention. Suffice it to say that Florida A&M University, its students, and particularly its athletes, are much better off for Dr. Foote's having passed this way.

HOWARD C. GENTRY

Howard C. Gentry is a native of Columbus, Ohio, where he attended West High School, participating in football, basketball and track. He was named All-City tackle in both 1937 and 1938.

He attended Florida A&M and graduated in 1943. While at Florida A&M Gentry was selected to the All-SIAC and All-American football teams in 1942.

After entering the armed services in 1943, Gentry graduated from Officers Training School as a second lieutenant and later served in the European Theater of Operations. When he left the service, he entered Ohio State and earned the M.A. degree.

His coaching career began at North Carolina A&T in 1946 as an assistant to Bill Bell, one of last year's inductees and a former coach at Florida A&M. Gentry left A&T and joined the staff of Central State of Ohio where he was line coach for one year (1948). He then went to Tennessee State as head line coach under H. A. Kean.

In 1955, Gentry became chairman of an interim coaching committee and piloted the Tennessee State Tigers to a 7-2 season. That was good enough for him to be named head coach at Tennessee State and he promptly compiled an undefeated season in his first year, winning the Orange Blossom Classic, the Midwest Athletic Association championship and the national championship. He also was named coach of the year.

In all, Gentry won 42 while losing 10 and tying one as head coach, and put together a 22-game winning streak. His teams won the Mid-Western Athletic Association Conference championship in 1956, 57, 59 and 60.

In 1968 he became athletic director and a professor of health, physical education and recreation at Tennessee State. He has since been inducted into the Citizens Saving Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for Athletic Directors. This induction occurred earlier this year.

Gentry is active in community life and holds membership in many civic, social and religious organizations. He presently resides in Nashville, Tennessee.

HAROLD "HAL" McRAE

During his playing days at Florida A&M, Hal McRae was a stellar performer under Coach Costa Kittles. He batted .360 and hit 16 home runs before the Cincinnati Reds acknowledged his talents and drafted him into their organization.

Now one of the American League's premier hitters, Hal is among the most exciting and consistent players in the game. It was primarily his bat that carried Kansas City to its second consecutive American League West championship, and it was primarily his hustle that carried the Royals and eventual world champion Yankees to a thrilling fifth game in this year's league championship series.

His aggressive play and enthusiasm are driving forces for the Royals and have earned the popular outfielder-designated hitter the tag "Hustlin' Hal."

In addition to his outstanding performance in 1977, he also enjoyed a stellar year in 1976, becoming the first Royal to log three straight .300 campaigns by hitting .332. His lofty batting mark—the highest by a righthanded hitter in the American League since Harvey Kuenn hit .353 in '59—pushed teammate George Brett to the final day of the season before the batting crown was decided by a scant point.

McRae was selected to his third straight All-Star game this year. In 1976 he was named Designated Hitter-of-the-Year. The most prolific DH ever, he topped his counterparts in average for the second time in three seasons despite a lingering leg injury that hobbled him nearly two months.

In 1975 Hal was also among the league's leading hitters, finishing seventh. One of his top individual showings came on August 27, 1974 against Cleveland when he had five doubles and a homer in a doubleheader to tie a major league record for extra base hits in a twin bill.

McRae played in two World Series in three full seasons with Cincinnati before joining the Royals.

BERTHA J. MINOR

Bertha James Minor, a native of New Bedford, Mass., received her B.S. degree from Florida A&M in 1939, and went on to become an outstanding influence on women's athletics in the State of Florida and beyond.

Upon graduation from Plymouth High School in Massachusetts in 1933 where she received the Outstanding Woman Athlete of the Year award, "Babe," as she is affectionately called, attended Hampton (Va.) Institute from 1933 to 1935. She then attended Florida A&M where she earned her undergraduate degree.

Indiana University was the next stop in her educational career. There, "Babe" earned the M.S. in 1947, and the Dir. P.E. degree in 1950. She has done Post-Directorate study (1968) at California State University at San Jose.

Her list of educational and professional experience is impressive. Her first job was woman's athletic coach at Washington Park High School, 1939-42, and from Washington Park she then came to Florida A&M where she experienced phenomenal success. Following her tenure at Florida A&M, she became women's varsity athletic coach at Bethune-Cookman College, and later the chairman of the women's athletic department at the same school.

Soon she became a nationally rated women's basketball official and subsequently became a women's athletic consultant to the Federal Government of Nigeria (Federal Advanced Teacher's College).

"Babe" also served as women's athletic consultant to the Public School System of Lagos, Nigeria, and introduced volleyball to the public schools there.

In addition to her Outstanding Woman Athlete of the Year award she received at Plymouth High School, Mrs. Minor was given the Outstanding Teacher award (Orange and Green Award) from the Students of Florida A&M University in 1965.

EDWARD E. OGLESBY

The late Edward E. "Rock" Oglesby was a native of Sandusky, Ohio, and he left his mark on Florida A&M both as a player and coach.

During his playing days Oglesby was a quarterback for the Rattlers and he led Florida A&M to two Southern Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference championships during the 1939-43 era.

He joined the Rattler coaching staff in 1947 under Jake Gaither as an assistant football coach in charge of the offensive backfield. In that capacity he tutored many great Rattler runners, including Bob Hayes and the late Willie Galimore.

In addition to coaching football, Oglesby also was the head basketball coach of the Rattlers and his teams won more SIAC championships (10) than any other team in the league.

Oglesby's basketball teams were perennial winners and he became known for producing lightning-quick squads who ran the fast break to perfection.

During the period 1950-71, Oglesby's basketball teams won 404 games while losing only 105 for a winning percentage of 79. During that stretch one of Oglesby's teams also was runner-up in the national championship tournament.

After earning his bachelor's degree at Florida A&M, Oglesby attended Ohio State and earned the master's. He gained valuable experience in basketball by playing in the service with the Camp Lee squad.

At the time of his death in 1971, he was an associate professor of physical education in addition to his duties as assistant football coach and head basketball coach.

NATHANIEL "TRAZ" POWELL

Nathaniel "Traz" Powell played varsity football, basketball and baseball for the Rattlers from 1945 through 1948.

He was All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in all three sports—football for all four years, basketball in 1946 and 1947, and baseball for the same two years.

He earned All-American honors in football from 1945 through 1947 and was the first black player to score a touchdown in Miami's Orange Bowl stadium when he hauled in a pass from quarterback Jim Williams to lead the Rattlers to a 7-0 win over Hampton Institute in the Orange Blossom Classic.

Powell also served as Captain of the Florida A&M football team (1945-46), basketball team (1945-46) and baseball team (1946).

While it was a rarity for one player to hold the position of captain of three varsity teams at once as Powell did in 1946, "Traz" further showed his versatility by being named College Student of the Month in 1946.

Since his graduation from Florida A&M (bachelor's in 1948 and master's in 1961) Powell compiled an outstanding high school coaching record over a period of 20 years. He won 178 while losing 15 and tying 6.

He never coached a losing football season and was selected coach of the year in the Florida Interscholastic Athletic Association in 1954, 56, 57, 58, 61, and 64.

He developed and sent some 500 athletes to college on football, basketball and baseball scholarships. Most of them were sent to Florida A&M and 65 percent of them completed their college work.

Powell always has been very active in the community by offering service to the much-needed, mostly young people.

He belongs to numerous community and fraternal organizations and is presently employed at Miami-Dade Community College, North.

He is married to Altamease G. Powell and they have one daughter, Natlete Gail.

GEORGE STANLEY STRACHAN

The late George Stanley Strachan began his athletic career in the public schools of Miami, where he was an outstanding football player at Booker T. Washington High School.

He attended Florida A&M and became one of the Rattlers' all-time great fullbacks, and he was recognized for his talents by being named All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and All-American in 1939. He was a member of the Rattlers' first national championship team in 1938 and was instrumental in that squad's going undefeated through its eight-game schedule.

After graduating from Florida A&M in 1940, Strachan was a teacher in Liberty City, Florida. Also, in 1940, he married his college sweetheart, Erma Coleman of Detroit, Michigan. In 1942, Stanley and Erma moved to Detroit, where he joined the Detroit Street Railway as one of the city's first black bus drivers.

During World War II, Strachan served in the Navy as an athletic director with duty in Hawaii and Japan. After the war he returned to his job as a coach operator. He was employed by the Detroit Street & Railway system for 18 years and received a number of promotions within the department.

Strachan was always a lover of all kinds of sports. He played softball for his company team and was an outstanding first baseman. For five years he coached the Mohawk Little League softball team, which played throughout Michigan and Canada.

Strachan also was a member of the Varsity Club of Detroit, an organization that is indirectly responsible for athletes' going to college. He was also a member of St. Cyprian Episcopal Church in Detroit. After a short illness, he passed away on August 16, 1960.

The Strachans had two children, George Stanley, Jr., and Janet.

MONEY AND JOBS

Scholarships are available to selected students for 4, 3, 2, and 1 year periods. Tuition, textbooks and other purely educational expenses are paid for each scholarship student. Additionally, all scholarship students and each junior and senior student receive a tax free subsistence allowance of $100 per month during the Fall, Winter and Spring quarters. Following graduation, service careers in a wide variety of fields are available with annual starting salaries in excess of $11,000. And for those who choose to serve only 3 to 6 months of active duty, completion of the program provides eligibility for high paying part-time jobs as officers in the Army Reserve or National Guard.

ACADEMIC

CREDIT: At Florida A&M, as many as 26 Army ROTC credit hours may be applied towards a Bachelors Degree in most fields of study on campus.
